

CHAT NOTES - May 3, 2014 Phone Conversation

from klaus noldes to Everyone:

Because i was so frustrated I just read KTS 312 - 317 which is the opposite

from Michael G to Everyone:

Discouragement is just a story but--alas--when it comes to visit it can gag all the other more cheerful guests

from Soudabeh Azizi to Everyone:

I found it profound where it says: "Witness becomes a summary term for a sequence of temporal events..." P113

from klaus noldes to Everyone:

a knowing without turning to the next story

from Michael G to Everyone:

Would the dynamic of time feel like an unfolding, a blossoming, of a living presence?

from John B to Everyone:

I like the statement: "The music is already playing" on p118. The story may never stop, but our relationship to it can expand greatly.

from Soudabeh Azizi to Everyone:

Yes John, it is the same as he says in Page 114: The witness is free to continue with its testimony. Each claim it makes express a knowledge that does not depend on the witness in any way. Seen as claims, without regard to their content, the proclamations of the witness are manifestations of knowledge. They do not need to be rejected, for they stand revealed with a new "lightness": as richly creative and wholly lucent expressions of a timing inseparable from knowlgeability.

from John B to Everyone:

Yes, the reason I say

from John B to Everyone:

cont... 'I like' is that it exposes the futility of fighting the story and creates in me a sense of release to expand into a larger space, or maybe time too to dance with it.

from klaus noldes to Everyone:

might Time be the happening of knowing Space?

from Eliana Kalaf to Everyone:

When I look for something there is a focus, and many details are lost. But if I satay mindfull andr aware, I can have a more open perspective, a richer experience.

from Soudabeh Azizi to Everyone:

Only in this few minutes...So much caring..Soooo sensitive to every thing and anything...So much love and compassion for all the errors for me and others ...So meaningful ...

from Bruce to Everyone:

In looking for the knowing from within, I found a kind of 'saturation' of knowing in the looking: The luminosity of structuration, the 'same taste' of subject-and-object in their arising

from Michael G to Everyone:

The hand that reaches out for a screwdriver is already available before intention comes into play. Knowing must be present in order to know. Sitting still and wondering about my life in the world, it feels that the capacity to wonder is a given from which, through which, all acts of concern, worry, or celebration are fueled

from Eliana Kalaf to Everyone:

Staying mindful and alert moves away from the self centered view. Or at least weaken self concerns.

from Eliana Kalaf to Everyone:

I can be open to other alternatives and outcomes
