

CHAT NOTES - June 1, 2014

from Michael G to Everyone:

Is there an Insider beside which the subject stands looking out? Is the Insider immersed in Time, Space, and Knowledge and has no way of becoming articulate but by standing "beside" the inarticulate whole?

from Soudabeh Azizi to Everyone:

I thought of the presence ...That is an insider ...

from Soudabeh Azizi to Everyone:

It seems for me, that Time disappears and more of a inclusive, vast, awareness, knowing takes over, which I call it presence ...

from Eliana Kalaf to Everyone:

Can the presence be the experience of inner time?

from Philip Gold (privately):

What Soudabeh wrote describes very well my experience with the walkabout, but I also feel a huge surge of available energy

from Michael G to Everyone:

A Russian Proverb: "To cross a field is not to live your life."

from Michael G to Everyone:

Perhaps that's because we can cross a field without having a from and to, and so our relationship with a fields needs to be more a diving in.

from Michael G to Everyone:

gratitude for the shell that gives us an opportunity to hatch: the knowing that flows in fixed structures transports the capacity to contact an inner time and a deeper knowing?
